Bi-Monthly English Bulletin

JANUARY - FEBRUARY 2026

"May the joy of Christmas sustain our journey!"

by Sr. Flor Florece, F.I.

Welcome, readers, to our 2026 January-February Bulletin!

After the Christmas season, we enter Ordinary Time, which is a period outside the seasons of Advent, Christmas, Lent, and Easter. During Ordinary Time, we reflect on various mysteries of Christ that are not specifically commemorated by these seasons. This time serves as an invitation from Mother Church to deepen our knowledge, love, and commitment to Christ. As this issue is released on February 1, we note that the Lenten season will soon begin, starting with Ash Wednesday on February 18.

In this issue, we would like to share excerpts from the message delivered by Pope Leo XIV during the Angelus on the Second Sunday of Christmas at the Vatican. Although it was published in Vatican News on January 4, we hope this message serves as an inspiration as we navigate the year 2026 and continue our faith journey throughout the liturgical year, both as a community and as individuals.

Excerpts from Pope Leo XIV

May the joy of Christmas inspire us to continue on our journey. "The mystery of Christmas reminds us that the foundation of our hope is God's Incarnation. As Scripture says, 'The Word became flesh and lived among us' (John 1:14). He shared the vulnerability of human flesh. In Jesus, God became one of us, chose to stay with us, and willed to be forever God-with-us. Our Christian hope, therefore, is not based on optimistic forecasts or human calculations, but on God's decision to share our journey so that we are never alone as we travel through life."

Examining our spirituality and expressions of faith. "Therefore," he urged, "we must continually examine our spirituality and the ways we express our faith to ensure they are genuinely embodied." He emphasized that this requires us to contemplate, proclaim, and pray to the God "who meets us in Jesus." "He is not a distant deity residing in a perfect heaven above," the Pope said, "but a God who is close to us, inhabiting our fragile earth. He becomes present in the faces of our brothers and sisters and reveals himself in the circumstances of our daily lives."

Authentic worship of God requires care for humanity. The Holy Father said that our commitment to all men and women must be consistent. He reminded us that "since God has become one of us, every human being reflects him, bearing his image and containing a spark of his light." He emphasized that this recognition calls us to honor the inviolable dignity of every person and to offer ourselves in mutual love for one another. The Pope added that this commitment, "demands a concrete effort to promote fraternity and communion," enabling solidarity to become the guiding principle of all human relationships. "There is no authentic worship of God without care for humanity."

In conclusion, Pope Leo prayed that the joy of Christmas encourage us to continue on our journey and that we ask the Virgin Mary to make us ever more ready to serve both God and our neighbor.

News from the VATICAN

* On January 6, 2026, the Feast of the Epiphany, Pope Leo XIV closed the Holy Door at St. Peter's Basilica, concluding the Jubilee Year of Hope. Nearly 33.5 million pilgrims visited Rome during the Holy Year, representing 185 countries. Pilgrims are encouraged to return for the next extraordinary Jubilee in 2033.

* Pope Leo XIV has declared a Franciscan Jubilee Year to celebrate the 800th anniversary of St. Francis of Assisi's death. The inauguration ceremony was held at the Basilica of Our Lady of the Angels in Assisi, Italy, and the Jubilee will last until January 2027.

This Jubilee encourages the faithful to follow St. Francis in holiness, peace, and charity. A plenary indulgence is available by visiting a Franciscan church and fulfilling the usual conditions: sacramental confession, Holy Communion, and prayer for the Pope's intentions.

* Pope Leo began 2026 with a call to return to the source of our hope: the Word of God. In his January address, he said, "This month I am praying for you. Yes, for you. I am also praying for myself and for the entire Church. May we learn to practice and love praying with the Word of God. The gift of Scripture is God's love letter to humanity. Let us pray that we all draw from this gift and deepen our relationship with our Lord. Are you ready? Please join me and share this message with others." (PRAY WITH THE POPE, popesprayer.va)

"Onward! Forward!: From Pilgrims to Missionaries"

The image before us tells a quiet yet powerful story. A diverse group of people walks together, led by Christ, who carries the Cross not as a burden, but as a standard that shows the way. Beneath their feet lies the passage of time, transitioning from 2025 to 2026, symbolizing a shift from grace received to grace given.

The Jubilee Year of Hope was not intended to be just a memory; it was meant to inspire us to move forward. The Church does not exist only for inward journeys as pilgrims; it exists to be sent outward as missionaries. As Pope Francis reminds us, "Every Christian is a missionary to the extent that he or she has encountered the love of God in Christ Jesus." Missionary discipleship does not begin in distant lands; it starts right where God has placed you.

From Pilgrims to Missionaries

A pilgrim walks to receive, while a missionary walks to give. During the Jubilee Year, we passed through holy doors in search of mercy, healing, and hope. In 2026, Christ will journey alongside us, inviting us to share what we have received with the world. You don't need a passport to be a missionary; what you need is availability, fidelity, and a visibly lived love. Your mission field has already been assigned to you.

Your Sphere of Influence Is Your Mission Field: Practical Ways to Be a Missionary

Family: God has entrusted you with specific souls—people you alone can reach. The family is the first place where the Gospel should be demonstrated, not just spoken. Pray openly: before meals, before traveling, and before making decisions. Speak of God's mercy aloud: forgive quickly and apologize humbly. Establish small holy habits, such as a weekly Rosary decade, Scripture reading, or the Divine Mercy Chaplet. Teach by example; patience, chastity, faithfulness, and charity speak louder than words. Missionary families cultivate missionary hearts.

Workplace or School: Be a witness without a pulpit. While you may not be able to preach, you can radiate positivity. Work with integrity, even when it comes at a cost. Refuse to participate in gossip; instead, choose to speak blessings. Be a calm presence during conflicts, and let others know that you pray quietly, respectfully, and sincerely. Offer to pray for others when they share their struggles. Your holiness at work can serve as a signpost pointing to Christ.

Friendships: Evangelization Through Relationship. Most people come to Christ not through arguments, but through trust. Listen carefully before responding. Share simply and honestly how God has worked in your life. Invite people to Mass, Adoration, retreats, or novenas, but never force them. Patiently support others as they navigate their doubts and wounds. Missionaries don't rush conversions; they cultivate hearts.

Digital World: A New Mission Territory. Your online presence is not neutral; it either testifies to truth or remains silent. Share Scripture, reflections, or prayers. Avoid divisive or unkind speech. Defend the truth with gentleness. Use beauty—such as art, images, and testimonies—to point towards God. Even a single post can be a seed of grace.

Missionaries Move Forward Together. In the image, we see that no one walks alone. Christ leads while the people follow together. Mission is not a solo endeavor; it is ecclesial and communal, sustained by prayer and the sacraments. Stay close to the Eucharist, which is the source of missionary strength; to Confession, the wellspring of mercy; to Mary, the first and perfect missionary; and to the Cross, our compass and our hope.

Onward. Forward. The World Awaits. The Jubilee doors have closed, but the mission doors are opening. The year 2026 is not a retreat from grace; it is a response to it. Christ leads the way before you, and the Cross shows the path. The world is waiting for hope to be made visible. Instead of asking, "Am I called to be a missionary?" ask, "To whom am I sent today?"

Year-end English Retreat with Fr. George, SJ

SIIYM RETREAT

"Those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength; they will soar on wings like eagles." — Isaiah 40:31

The long-awaited moment finally arrived—the SIIYM 2025 Annual Retreat! This year, we spent three beautiful days in Hadano, Kanagawa, surrounded by nature and far from the busyness of everyday life. It was a time of prayer, gratitude, and deep reflection. Through our sharing sessions, each of us discovered new insights and fresh perspectives.

One question that resonated during our discussions was: "Which season are we in right now in our lives?" As we reflected, we realized that while we all long for spring—a season of renewal and joy—getting there can be challenging.

Our Jubilee Year logo beautifully illustrates this journey: four people holding onto each other, with the person in front grasping the cross. Though each stands at different levels, they remain connected to the cross through one another. We may find ourselves at the front, in the middle, or even at the far back—but as long as we hold onto each other, we carry the hope that the spring we await will surely come.

This retreat reminded us that Jesus Himself faced struggles, yet He held onto hope—and ultimately became Hope for the whole world. In the same way, if we persevere through our challenges today, we may become that hope for someone else who is struggling. And so, the cycle continues, because as Scripture promises:

"Hope does not disappoint." — Romans 5:5

SPECIAL FEATURE

"FROM OUR EYES"

(The John de Britto English Center offers classes for individuals interested in learning about the Catholic Church and considering conversion to the faith. This program is known as the Order of Christian Initiation for Adults (OCIA). During the Christmas season, participants were encouraged to attend various church events to gain exposure to the community. Four catechumens were asked to write about their experiences. In this Special Feature, you can gain insight into how they perceived our celebrations.)

End of the Year Retreat with Fr. George Nikhil, SJ

People asked, "What is this Year-End Retreat?" and questioned its purpose, wondering if it was better to spend the holidays with family. These questions showed curiosity and a lack of understanding, which was fine! They offered a chance to explain and invite them to experience it themselves.

Learning about the Jesuit way of prayer and minimizing distractions—even if just for a few hours—has been incredibly fulfilling. It allowed me to avoid wasting time doomscrolling on social media, to communicate with others, and to share our life experiences. The sharing brought us together. I found myself part of a much bigger "family" than I could ever have imagined, and most importantly, I felt a deep connection with our amazing Father and best friend.

If I hadn't gone, I wouldn't have met JFK and Neil, who answered my questions and provided loving guidance that made me feel less lost and more welcome. Most importantly, I became much closer to Jesus. Honestly, the retreat was a blessing I never expected to receive.
(Male, Greek)

December 24 Japanese Mass (3 pm.)

What made the experience even more special was that I brought one of my family members with me. She is non-Catholic and does not practice any religion, but since I am planning to get baptized, I wanted her to experience a church service before that. It was her first visit, and I was worried about how she would react. Unlike the usual Masses, the church was uniquely decorated, which caught her attention. Fortunately, she really liked the decorations, the atmosphere, and the Mass itself.

She especially appreciated the blessings people receive during the service. She mentioned that no one in her daily life ever tells her, "May you be blessed." I realized that we often take for granted phrases like "I am praying for you" or "May good things happen to you" that we hear within our church community. Receiving blessings and the Eucharist, not only on Christmas but also during our daily Masses, is truly a privilege. Looking back, I recognize that I did not have such experiences before coming to church. Even my family members, who do not have a Catholic background, have noticed this.

Reflecting on my special experience, I realize how blessed we are to know the church and to receive blessings and the Eucharist every Sunday. Although I am not yet baptized, I hope to be baptized very soon, and I am excited about having my First Communion. Thank you, St. Ignatius Church, for this precious experience! (Female, Japanese)

Christmas Eve Mass (9:00 p.m. English)

The Christmas season in 2025 was my first experience as a catechumen. In 2023, I attended Christmas Mass in New York City, but my heart had not yet embraced the Catholic faith. In contrast, in 2025, I participated in Christmas Mass at St. Ignatius Church with a truly Catholic heart. With a deeper understanding of the meaning of Christmas, the experience was beautiful.

During the Mass and in my personal prayers, God reminded me of the Annunciation. I reflected on Mary's "yes" to God and her trust in his plan. I was also drawn to the Nativity scene, where Mary quietly pondered in her heart. Mary has been a significant figure in my journey toward the Catholic faith since childhood, and these moments during Mass warmed my heart profoundly.

There was another important reason why Christmas Mass at St. Ignatius was so beautiful: it provided an opportunity to reflect on love itself. Christmas is not only about gifts and festive lights; it is also about offering our time, effort, and love to others. Keeping this in my heart allowed me to express my love for Christ by attending Mass. I was also able to share this love by spending meaningful time with my family, friends, and even people I had just met.

Connecting with others, forming community, and building relationships is truly beautiful. In our daily lives, we often focus too much on ourselves and our achievements, which can lead to broken relationships and deeper social challenges. Through my experience of Christmas in 2025, I learned a deeper way of loving others and intentionally fostering love. (Female, Japanese)

Volunteer Work

On Christmas Eve, I stood outside to help with the massive foot traffic for the English Mass. It was chaotic with over a thousand people, but instead of feeling like it was hard labor, it felt electric, seeing so many souls hungry for a Christmas service. The highlight was having my daughter standing right by my side, directing people and serving the Church. Standing there in the cold with her, I realized that passing on the faith isn't just about lectures, it's about serving. We were just small branches of the vine (John 15:5) that night, helping the sap flow to the rest of the body.

The vibe was totally different when I went back on January 11th to help take down the Nativity display. The crowds were gone, and it was just a quiet crew packing away the statues and cleaning up. Putting the Holy Family and the wise men into boxes felt a little melancholy, like we were packing away the magic of the Incarnation. (Male, Nigerian)
